MYKONOS ART FESTIVAL 2022

UNTIL 30/9, VARIOUS PLACES AROUND MYKONOS, MYKONOSARTFESTIVAL.COM

Two years later, the great celebration of art returns to the alleys of Mykonos with the aim of embracing all the spaces of creation, making use of the special characteristics of the island as well as the locations that carry history and tradition. This year's program runs through a vision about the operation of the Public Space, and includes original walking routes during which you will discover five visual installations by established artists. Also, a group of great dancers will cross the Chora and create five small choreographies in situ (29/7), while the night of baroque music with Markellos Chryssicos on the harpsichord and the mezzo-soprano Theodora Baka (3/8) is of particular interest. In the Archaeological site of Delos, three performers will perform the adventure of the young Phaethon from the well-known myth, as recorded in Ovid's "Metamorphoses" and in the surviving fragments of Euripides' tragedy (9/9).

Touch of wonder

CARRYING A LONG EXPERIENCE IN THE HOSPITALITY INDUSTRY, EUGENIA CHANDRIS INTRODUCES GREECE THROUGH... "A MAGIC CABINET": AN INSPIRING PLATFORM OF WONDERS FEATURING CONTEMPORARY GREEK TREASURES. BY IRA SINIGALIA

We would like you to tell us what your Magic Cabinet hides.

A Magic Cabinet artfully conceals rather than hides! In the eighteenth century, cabinets of curiosity were diminutive museums housing collections of valuable, rare, and exotic items, many of which could be discovered within hidden drawers and behind locked compartments. My site showcases and sells premium Greek products on a platform offering fine aesthetic and eloquent texts about their heritage. The products are from the world of gastronomy, home décor, style and beauty, and even pets.

What do you want "A Magic Cabinet" to be?

A place where someone can find inspiring objects and gifts selected with care and enthusiasm, whose stories amplify the glories of this country. It is a Magic Cabinet, not an ordinary retail store. I want to give it a touch of wonder.

Can you introduce yourself in five words?

Energetic, obsessed with details, loving, protective, bubbly.

How do you think we can keep our creativity alive?

By reading. By listening to our inspirations and taking note of them. I personally find that too much technology kills my creative voice. Physical activity is a great meditation and I get my best ideas when I am out jogging.

Where is the beauty in life?

Beauty is everywhere you look if you are open to it. My favourite place to find it is by the sea, on a sandy beach. In Mykonos of course!

How do you start and end your day?

I start with lists and emails followed by a good strong workout. I end with lists and mail and a good night's sleep. I don't give up the workout or the sleep for anyone. Exercise and rest are both so important.

When does success meet happiness?

It doesn't always. Success can be empty if it is not joined by its elusive twin, fulfillment. When I feel centered in my thoughts and something good comes out of that, that is what I call success.

What is the best advice you have been given?

As I am very anxious as a person, someone once told me, "Don't worry, it may never happen." I also try to live by the credo...Be present and focused!!!

Having a deep knowledge of the subject, what does the word "hospitality" mean to you?

I have worked in that industry for over forty years. Hospitality means welcoming, listening to, and taking care of your clients with warmth and sincerity. From the time of Homer, opening your home to a traveller has been a quintessentially Greek custom. I am proud to say that it still is.

What is your favorite moment at Bill & Co?

When the sun is just going down which is that glorious hour when we did our photo shoot at the hotel. The sun has warmed the stone walls and columns of the building, the sea is that wonderful grey-blue of the sunset hour, and the light a glowing orange. As darkness falls, those famous fiber optic lights illuminate the pool. I love that moment.

What do you think makes Mykonos unbeatable?

The clarity of its light, baking the earth and bouncing off the sea. As soon as I arrive, I feel propelled by the energy, uplifted by the fresh air and gusty winds. It is true that the island is seriously overbuilt, yet there is still such striking physical beauty here. The beaches are impressive, and the sea is so pristine, so clear. I am a person who still enjoys and is impressed by the choice and range Mykonos offers in its shopping, dining, and clubbing options but I love to escape to my quiet and rocky running tracks and just hear the wind and smell the wild herbs.

Mykonos is... unbeatable.

If the Greek summer were a perfume, what ingredients would it have?

Jasmine. Honeysuckle. Salt.

CREATIONS THAT DEVELOP SUBLIME SENSUALITY WITH COLOUR AND PERPETUAL MOTION.

Van Cleef & Arpels loves to redefine the concept of luxury. This time, it has breathed life into one of the most iconic themes of the Two Butterfly collection, with a harmonious combination of colour and asymmetry that gives a new dimension to the grace and beauty of butterflies when they fly. For the first time in the collection's history, the delicate creatures are dressed in bright turquoise and helped by the warmth of gold and the sparkle of diamonds, create a bold contrast that takes shape through the vibrancy of the natural world.

A LANDMARK IN THE HISTORY OF AUDEMARS PIGUET, THE ROYAL OAK BEGINS ITS SECOND HALF CENTURY OF LIFE WITH AN INNOVATIVE AND BOLD TECHNOLOGICAL STATEMENT THAT DEFIES THE RULES.

Yet another work of art by Audemars Piguet, the new Royal Oak RD#3 is loyal to the aesthetic codes of the emblematic "Jumbo" models, while at the same time being a great innovation for the Swiss haute horlogerie brand. The anniversary model pays tribute to the iconic watch's 50 years and combines technological and aesthetic evolution, with the Caliber 2968 at its core, an exceptionally thin, selfwinding flying tourbillon. This innovation was developed over the course of 5 years and is making its debut in the classic 39 mm models, as well as the famed Royal Oak 37 mm models. The architecture of the motion was designed to offer unobstructed views into the smaller cage, while also showcasing an appealing contrast with the refined finishes, all completed by hand by the brand's skilled craftsmen.

A SYMBOL OF UNITY AND INFINITY EMBRACES HEART AND SOUL THROUGH ITS FORM.

Ellipse shape, inspired by cycles, is among the oldest of geometric symbols, representing unity, wholeness, and infinity. It was a Greek mathematician, known as Menaechmus, who first discovered it in 300BC.

However, it wasn't until around 100BC that the ellipse shape was given its name by Apollonius in his book 'Conics'. Nowadays when the ellipse is skillfully transformed into a precious piece of art it symbolizes a sweet embrace, in other words the comfort zone we all look for.

BEEFBAR MYKONOS REIMAGINED

The striking new concept of the famous restaurant puts Mykonos on the to-do list of every traveller seeking the quintessence of the good life.

A leader

in the Mykonos summer scene, Beefbar Mykonos knows how to increasingly spoil its select audience, generously enhancing a sense of indulgence, relaxation, unpretentious luxury and the Mykonian lifestyle.

Following the radical renovation of the famous carnivore brand, at the Bill & Co

Coast Suites, in Agios Ioannis, Beefbar Mykonos brings together all the essence of summer in a sophisticated and cozy environment that honors both its famous name and the history of the very island that has been hosting it since 2018.

Taking inspiration from traditional architecture and the neighbouring island, Delos, Beefbar's redesign - led by Interior Design Laboratorium, a Greek architect and interior-design studio - celebrates the island's traditions and materials. The redesign mainly features natural materials including marble and wood, combining an earthy palette referencing the island's history. The reimaged restaurant and beach lounge also feature vibrant tiles, including deep red, a typical feature of Mykonian architecture, which can be found at the iconic St John church, located just opposite Beefbar.

Comfortable sofas under impressive pergolas, tables set among the trees against the backdrop of the unique blue of the Greek sea, the revamped setting is designed with a single goal in mind: to create a well-cared-for destination for relaxation and enjoyment.

On the taste side, casual fine dining lovers will discover unique suggestions in the also revamped menu, covering every taste palette. Beefbar Mykonos' award-winning and extremely talented Executive Chef Ntinos Fotinakis and his team create for one more summer an enhanced dining experience,

Enjoy the setting and the view and be ready to taste its new menu that will be shared between meat and fish creations.

Top quality ingredients remain the ultimate stars with fresh vegetables, local fish and seafood, and the most premium meats from every corner of the globe taking centre stage in the impressive open kitchen, where you can see the team at work. This summer, the Reef menu has been expanded due to popular demand on the lunch menu with several options that have the freshness of the sea, such as the octopus tacos with tarama, chilli and fennel, several new dishes such as the signature Drunken Sea Bass Ceviche infused with ouzo, chilli and coriander, and an impressive selection of freshly caught fish. Some of the chef's tasty suggestions are also on the restaurant's supper menu, along with all of Beefbar's signature meat specialties, such as the famous Kobe Beef Gyros and fine premium cuts. Everything is accompanied by an excellent wine list with selected labels from the Greek and international vineyards, signature cocktails, impeccable service and the sound of cool summer music from the restaurant's in-house DJs.

As part of the hotel's major redevelopment, Bill & Coo Coast's new impressive and ultra-premium Beach Lounge, which favours all-day relaxation under the bright Mykonian sun, is yet another reason to be at this unique spot on the island, with the eponymous local chapel, the energy of Delos and the endless blue of the Aegean Sea, all contributing to a special summer day full of enjoyable moments. Transforming from a lively beach bar where guests can unwind in the Cycladic sun by day, to a glamorous restaurant with vibrant music and a lively ambience by night, there is no better place to ease into the laid-back lifestyle of Mykonos through the Bill & Coo way of life.

When you first meet Chef Ntinos (pronounced “Dinos”) Fotinakis, you’re immediately struck by his warmth and his huge smile that’s as big as his heart. “I believe in philoxenia, the Greek concept of treating everyone as a friend. Whether you come to my house in Athens or to my “home” at Bill & Coo here in Mykonos, you’ll be treated the same way,” says Ntinos. “I want you to feel comfortable, I want to make sure you’re trying lots of different things, that you have a glass of wine in your hand, that we’re having good conversation together.” And it’s when he’s making his guests happy in this way, bringing the same passion and emotion to friends and family as to guests he’s met for the first time that morning, that Ntinos feels most rewarded by making the career choice to become a chef.

FOOD... ON STAGE

Ntinos first realized that he wanted to be involved with food as a child. In his family, food was always the main topic of conversation, and every Sunday he would go to his grandmother’s house where everyone converged in the kitchen. “There was my grandmother, her sister, all the family together inside the kitchen and they were speaking what felt like a different language. It was the language of cooking and ingredients. Everyone was talking, laughing, sometimes arguing, and I just loved that feeling,” he remembers. Ntinos also developed a love for plants and gardens, and at the family’s country house he was intrigued by the vegetable garden. His grandmother would pick a tomato in the garden and explain to the young Ntinos that this was what she would use to make his favourite gemista stuffed vegetables. “It was like magic. I started to love plants and decided either to be a cook or a horticulturalist”, says Ntinos. But studying was not something close to his heart, so rather than spending extensive hours in the classroom he dove straight into becoming a chef.

FRENCH LESSONS

Initially he wanted to be a traditional Greek chef, a katsarolas, a typical one-pot chef who would make basic, hearty food full of flavour.

Ode to gastronomy

But at school, he had a teacher who taught French cuisine. “At the time I didn’t think I wanted to learn about French food. After all, I’m Greek and I wanted to cook Greek food. But my teacher told me to try it and see,” explains Ntinos. He agreed, and was sent to work in Crete with Michelin two-star French chef Jacques Le Divellec. And it was there that he started to understand the language of French cuisine.

Having spent time in the kitchens of multi-Michelin-starred restaurants such as Four Seasons Hotel George V and Le Bristol in Paris, Flocons de Sel in Megève, La Bastide Saint-Antoine in Grasse, Greenhouse in London and Trussardi Alla Scala in Milan amongst others, he certainly brings a strong pedigree to his cuisine.

Ntinos carries this collaborative spirit to his kitchens today, working regularly with renowned chefs from around the world. It’s worth keeping an eye out for what each new season might bring. Guests in 2017 may have been lucky enough to experience the one-day-only collaboration between Ntinos and Heston Blumenthal at Beefbar.

And these many years of experience traverse the cuisine he creates across all four of the restaurants at Bill & Coo Hotels Mykonos, from the Gastronomy Project to the poolside restaurant at Bill & Coo Suites and Lounge, to the Taverna and Beefbar at Bill & Coo Coast Suites.

MULTIPLE CHOICES

So what should a guest coming to Bill & Coo for the first time try? “When you come for breakfast, there’s one very simple plate that I believe starts off any day perfectly. All Greeks grew up with this. It’s boiled eggs served in a bowl with chunks of bread, olive oil and thyme, all mixed up. It’s so simple but so tasty, and you should order it alongside your other breakfast items,” says Ntinos.

At the pool at Bill & Coo Suites & Lounge, he recommends the summer salad made from green beans, Mykonian cheese, figs, and louza, a type of local cured ham similar to prosciutto, dressed with carob honey.

And every meal at Gastronomy Project, the only true fine dining restaurant on the island, is like a journey through flavours, with ingredients from the sea and the farm being transformed into four- or seven-course dégustation menus.

Over at Bill & Coo Coast Suites, diners should look out for the soft-shell crab burger, at Beefbar Mykonos, as well as the Kobe Beef gyros, a perennial favourite. At Taverna Ntinos recommends the traditional kakaviá fish soup, a simple yet tasty dish made by fisherman including fresh fish, potatoes, carrots and onion. And if you’re in the mood for a Greek classic, the moussaka is not to be missed.

A TWIST ON LOCAL CLASSICS

With a background in gastronomy, Ntinos likes to play with traditions, putting his own twist on classic dishes and comfort food. Take his version of the typical Mykonian kremidopita onion pie. Usually made with pork lardo, the version he serves in Gastronomy Project includes Wagyu lardo and local Mykonian cheese to enhance the flavour of the original recipe.

Another dish he likes to showcase is his ravioli with sea urchin. Sea urchins are abundant in the waters around Mykonos and unlike in other parts of Greece where they are eaten with lemon, here they are paired with vinegar. “I love this dish. I make the ravioli with sea urchin, wild fennel that we gather ourselves on the island, and salicornia. You really get a taste of the sea on your plate,” he says.

TREASURES FROM THE CYCLADIC ISLANDS

Mykonos and the surrounding islands act as something of a larder for Ntinos. On Mykonos, Ntinos forages for wild fennel and rock samphire that grows in abundance around Bill & Coo Coast Suites, picking the rock samphire early in the year when it’s at its most tender and pickling it for use throughout the season. Guests can try the fennel in Ntinos’ marathopita fennel pie and the rock samphire in his Greek salad. Other Mykonian ingredients include organic eggs from a small local farm, louza cured ham, local sausages served at breakfast, and tomatoes from the Bill & Coo gardens.

Tomatoes also come from neighbouring island Tinos. Santorini is the source of white aubergines, sweeter than their purple cousins. Goat meat, a local delicacy, comes from the nearby island of Schinousa. And Naxos is the source of potatoes, widely known as being some of the best around and the base for the perfect Greek fries.

And you can’t overlook fish and seafood, which is delivered daily directly from the boat to Bill & Coo Coast Suites by the fisherman who caught it. Says Ntinos, “He arrives each day on his boat before lunch and we go and help him bring in his catch. Since it’s straight from the sea we don’t always know what we’re going to get, but we bring it into the restaurant and our guests can choose what they want. It doesn’t get fresher than that.”

PERFECT CHOREOGRAPHY

When asked what he's most looking forward to about every season, he smiles. "I'm excited to welcome new guests, and to welcome back regular guests who visit us year after year. When a regular guest asks me to make them something they haven't tried before, I forget that I might be tired or stressed, and dive straight into creating something that I know they'll love. Their happiness is my happiness, and it all ties back to that philoxenia that's at the heart of everything I do," says Ntinios. But there's something else that has special significance to Ntinios, the teamspirit. "Gastronomy is like a ballet, with everything choreographed between the serving and kitchen teams. I love this energy and to be part of it. There's a feeling of the team moving as one. Since we spent so much time apart over the winter, this is something I'm really excited about. I've really missed it," says Ntinios. "I can't wait to feel everything in synchronicity again." And what's so unique in the gastronomic experience curated by Bill & Co? "At the heart of Bill & Co lies a passion for cuisine and a desire to create different culinary experiences for our guests to enjoy. Bill & Co places special emphasis on raw materials and fresh ingredients, seeking only for the best, mainly from Greece but also internationally. We aim to add zest to every culinary experience of our guests and invite their senses every hour of the day to enjoy specially prepared dinners and lunches all with an alluring soundtrack in the background. Although boutique, Bill & Co offers four different restaurants each with a unique cuisine for our guests to enjoy," says Ntinios. As per the new and surely hot additions elevating the experience in Beefbar Mykonos, Ntinios points out: "following its complete renovation, Beefbar Mykonos is an iconic day to night hotspot. The menu is divided in three axes, Beef, Reef, Leaf and this summer, the Reef menu has expanded to include new signature dishes and an impressive fish display with the fresh catch of the day that can be enjoyed grilled or sashimi. As Beefbar Mykonos is a beachside restaurant the Reef menu is a unique concept among all Beefbar restaurants, that we have designed to highlight the Aegean Sea and offer unique dishes like the Grilled Lobster with Beefbar's signature sauce, or the crispy prawns from Symi island with ,chili oil & ouzo sauce".

The

Bill & Coo Experiences “palette” creates a new relationship between guest and hotel.

What is it?

The idea behind the experiences is to give our guests something different. Bill & Coo is more than just hotels - #billandcoowayoflife is exactly what we want to pass on to the world. For us it's a way of life. From trying a new wine, to tasting a new dish, to “marrying” the aromas and flavours of a cigar with a spirit. We try to take guests on a journey based on our experiences and our passion for hospitality.

What are the innovative elements that these Experiences include?

We are looking for the different - the special. All of us, as a team, strive to capture and present experiences to our guests across the F&B spectrum, from fine wines from Greek producers to hard-to-find cigars and spirits. We are quite creative and want to pass it on to our guests. All the details are important. From the utensil to the serving ritual. We're always working on finding things that will enhance our program and offer new experiences.

With what vision were they designed?

It all starts with whether what we want to do is Bill & Coo. It's our DNA. A simple menu is not Bill & Coo. But a creative menu with special elements, presented by a naturally cheerful and knowledgeable staff, is Bill & Coo. A commercial wine list is not Bill & Coo. A dynamic wine list which is regularly updated with new vintages and a team of sommeliers who try to give our guests the ideal wine for the moment and not necessarily the most expensive one, is Bill & Coo. We want to create a sequence of experiences in which we don't stick to one menu but can evolve and improve them.

The experience with cigars is also linked to your own love for them.

Tell us about it.

My love for cigars started several years ago. I am a wine and cigar enthusiast. For me they have a lot in common. I am a person who enjoys, appreciates and respects craftsmanship, specially when the result takes a long time to produce. When I like something I want to learn as much as I can about it. I want through the experiences we have prepared, to be able to share my passion for the wonderful world of cigars. It's not just a tobacco product. The cigar is a lifestyle, for me it's a way of life.

What is the element that makes Bill & Coo different?

The element that makes Bill & Coo different is its people. And it starts with the owner. It's our passion for hospitality. We have many repeaters who when they come back to our hotels, we welcome them with a big welcome home! Pools and good architecture can be found almost everywhere. The difference is the smile, the kindness and the contact with our guests who when their stay is over will leave as friends and we will renew our appointment for the next season.

What in your opinion makes Mykonos so special?

Mykonos has always been special. What made it special were its people - the locals - and those who believed in and were open to the new and different. In Mykonos you can have different experiences. You can have moments of peace and quiet, but you can also find places to have fun at all hours of the day. Every year Mykonos is renewed and more and more international brands - in all sectors - want to be part of the beauty, sophistication and lifestyle of this island.

EXCEPTIONAL WINE

VINEYARDS' PARADE

Enjoying a remarkable wine in the unique environment of Bill & Coo Hotels is certainly an experience in itself! The Wine Program aspires to satisfy even the most demanding customer as the wine lists are selectively built to match the style of each restaurant and the profile of the guests. The international vineyard is the foundation and includes thoughtful selections, primarily from France and Italy. But wines from the new world also have an important place on the lists. And of course, the Greek vineyard could not be absent from the Bill & Coo Hotels as the best that Greek wine has to offer is selected, while for the commercial wines the largest formats that age best are chosen. With a passion for gastronomy and fine wine, the Bill & Coo Hotels constantly strive for excellence. Thus the En Primeur programme is already in place, i.e. investing in wine zones and producers by pre-purchasing wines before they are even bottled. This makes it possible, over time, to build up a cellar of consecutive vintages of excellent wines.

CIGAR EXPERIENCE

THE PREMIUM COLLECTION

This experience is an initiative of Mr. Konstantinos Kagias, Group F&B Director of Bill & Coo Hotels. He has been involved with cigars for the past eight years and, as he points out, it's one of his passions. "The rest is again related to my job and it all has to do with time. To get a cigar into our hands and enjoy it, takes 500 manual tasks and a lot of time. That's what has made me appreciate them so much. As well as spirits whose production process goes on for years, like tequila, whiskey, cognac. Also wines."

The collection consists of cigars from Cuba, Santo Domingo and Nicaragua, which the trained staff is ready to suggest, present, prepare and serve. Obviously there's been a selection process: "due to the increased demand for cigars and the limited production - especially of Cuban cigars - we are flexible but selective in the choices we make." The Cigar Program is based on the fact that each cigar has a different flavour profile, and the experience involves three parts, specifically in each 1/3 of the cigar we pair it with a spirit that has characteristics that match the cigar.

04. CASCADE OF COLORS A SOUNDTRACK FOR THE SUNSET

The senses take center stage in Bill & Coo Hotels' experiences and soar in the colors of the Myconian sunset. As the sun dips into the waters of the Aegean Sea, in a perfectly Instagrammable moment, a unique sunset event, the Cascade of Colors, begins. The gaze is riveted in this moment, when the sun's rays dip into the Aegean Sea and music then takes center stage. The selections of renowned DJ and producer Alex Nude, a true Mykonos insider, who for almost twenty years has been putting his own melodic stamp on the island, create a special soundtrack exclusively for Bill & Coo Hotels that stirs the imagination and the senses. Alex, who also curates the music at Beefbar Mykonos, seeks to explore the vast worlds of grooves and melodies creating an energetic, profound and refreshing sound. His soundscapes take you from the warm Aegean islands to the cold Nordic winters; from the thickest tropical jungles to the soul of urban heartbeats. In 2019 Alex was brought to Hong Kong by industry trailblazer Cassio, which experienced a meteoric rise to become the city's leading music venue under his supervision as Music Director. Alex has performed in London, Hong Kong, Melbourne, Sydney, Belgrade, Cyprus and Athens alongside the industry's biggest artists, such as Joe Claussell, Âme, Osunlade, Solomun, Boddhi Satva and more.

MADE OF TIME

LET ME TELL YOU A STORY, THE STORY ABOUT ONE OF THE MOST LUXURIOUS SPIRITS ON EARTH.

When time is suspended, a great experience begins, unfolding through intense drops that lead you into the story and creation of a priceless spirit. It was in 1724 when Paul Emile Rémy Martin founded the eponymous French house, with a vision to create the most exceptional spirit on the planet with the best eaux-de-vie from the vineyards of the blessed land of Grande Campagne. A century and a half later, in 1874, Louis XIII is born, named in honour of the King of France, patron of the Cognac region. The vein of “gold” created at that time by the master blender of the house, Remy Martin, assigns to the next generations of cellar masters of the family, the greatest project in the history of the famous French spirit. The life of the precious spirit is measured in centuries, with each stunning crystal Baccarat carafe being the lifetime achievement of generations of cellar masters. Today, the story continues with Cellar Master Baptiste Loiseau preserving the finest eaux-de-vie as a legacy to his successors for the next century. While the pioneer and the one responsible for the conception of Louis XIII may never have tasted the finished product in his lifetime, he left that privilege to the house’s brand ambassadors, who travel the world and reveal the complex art of tasting the world’s finest cognac at tasting evenings.

DROPS OF A PRECIOUS EAUX-DE-VIE

Like everything precious in life, Louis XIII is enjoyed in small doses, one drop at a time. Let the first one roll between your lips, preparing your palate for a fireworks display of aromas and flavours that are revealed in your mouth by the second drop. Honey, walnut, dried rose with honeysuckle and jasmine and ripe fruit make up this melody of happiness. Multifaceted, rich, intense and at the same time silky and elegant, Louis XIII’s golden nectar with its seductive colour rewards the connoisseurs of the house with an aristocratic ritual. The unique spirit is served with gloves and a special pipette, the traditional tool used by generations of cellar masters to taste and serve this unique blend, in Baccarat glasses that ring like bells when clinked!

AN EXQUISITE RITUAL

The legend of Louis XIII in cosmopolitan Mykonos is brought to life in one of the island’s most iconic hotels. Combining its passion for perfection with the excellence of its unique spirit, Bill & Co offers its distinguished guests another tailor made experience that activates all the senses. The sacred moment of tasting the legendary spirit, at Bill & Co’s pool lounge, lasting an hour and a half, introduces you to selected spirits from the Remy Martin range with an exceptional pairing with dishes by Executive Chef Dinos Fotinakis, culminating in the tasting of the unique Louis XIII spirit. Upon request, the ritual can be “orchestrated” by the brand ambassador of Louis XIII in Greece, Mr. Panagiotis Panagiotakos.

WEST WORLDS

Indulge in a unique horse-riding experience through the breathtaking scenery on the island of Mykonos, between rocky mountains and farming areas to a beach off the beaten track. Mykonos Horseland offers memorable riding experiences since 1995, providing specifically trained horses for trekking and for riders of all abilities. The man behind it all, Theofanis Rouvas “the original Mykonos Cowboy”, who loved horses and started riding them at a young age, arrived with all his horses in the island in 2005. Many of them were rescues, or bred from rescues, working closely with animal protection services. The company lets you choose between a variety of themed rides, each one starting from Horseland stables and reaching the final destination of Fokos Beach. You can take a break and have a swim at the beautiful beach, sunbathe, or soak up the Cycladic landscape while enjoying a lunch and drink at the seaside tavern. ## THE LANDMARK “Sometimes I think about the man from the Cyclades. He made these superb sculptures deliberately in that form, didn’t he? In exactly that form. Better than Brancusi. Nobody has ever made an object stripped that bare.” These are the words of Picasso. Modernist pioneer Le Corbusier admired the archaic lines and uncompromising simplicity of the cube-like houses and the Paraportiani church so much that he viewed them as models of architecture. “Now I know that nothing I have built is worth the effort,” he said emphatically. It is no accident that the famous Chapel of Notre Dame in Ronchamp reflects these influences.

CINEMA IL PARADISO

Summer cinema in Greece is an experience in itself. All the more so when you experience it in a theater that has received rave reviews from the Greek and international press. "In fact, Cine Manto is quite possibly the most beautiful place in which you could hope to watch a film: it's a botanical garden with a silver screen and director's chairs", as Monocle magazine wrote in a tribute to the Mykonian theater. Beyond its cinematic perspective, Cine Manto, in a lush garden full of trees, palm trees and cacti - perhaps the largest in the world that bloom for a single night - conveys an unexpected and different view of Mykonos, far from the bustling and frenetic side of the island. A little piece of paradise hidden in the heart of Chora, ideal for spending a special cinematic night, watching your favorite movie under the stars while enjoying juicy well-roasted souvlaki, tasting Greek flavours at the eponymous café-restaurant and admiring works of art. ## BACK TO... RIZES

The creation of Nikos Zouganelis is the result of dedication to a way of life that seems foreign to the new Mykonos era, but is familiar to those who search for the hidden side of a land that still has a living tradition. The trip to Rizes is a journey through time and the history of authentic Mykonos. In the heart of the island, a traditional Village captures with images and interaction, the daily life of a Mykonian family that continues to live with tradition and customs. The traditionally decorated house, the authentic wood-fired oven where they still bake bread and food, the dairy where they produce their cheese, the well and the chapel, the folklore workshops, the verdant gardens, the domestic animals and the impassable paths, all remind you of the splendour of simplicity. Each tour ends with a rich and tasty treat in the village courtyard, with local wine and tsipouro, home cooked handmade pies and local delicacies. You can even participate in cooking classes or knead bread and enjoy it hot as soon as it comes out of the wood-fired oven. Whatever you choose, the tour is included. ## THE AMBASSADOR

In an autumn morning of 1955, Captain Antonis Charitopoulos was sailing his caique in the north-eastern part of Mykonos when he suddenly saw a burly bird struggling with the wind just in front of his eyes. This bird was to become Petros A', pelican of Mykonos. Arriving in Mykonos, Petros was adopted on the spot by the whole island. Hence, ever since Petros A' becomes the mascot of Mykonos, famous in Greece and abroad. This was the time when some people called him "Petros A' of Mykonos, Delos, Rineia and Prasonissia, Syros, Tinos etc". The wife of the American President at that time, Jackie Kennedy, sent a pair of white pelicans to Mykonos to keep Petros company. Their names were Alfonso and Omega and they arrived on the island in March, 1963. Unfortunately though, the "Yankees", left the island quite early. They were successfully replaced by a French female pelican, Irini. Nowadays Petros rules on the island and if you ask some Mykonean what's that whole thing with pelicans, he'll say to you: "Mykonos will thrive as long as Petros, the pelican, is here".

THE KING OF COLD MEATS

With a particularly salty flavour, intensity and very little fat, louza impresses. Especially on Mykonos, where it's consumed with summer savoury and allspice, it has a stronger, more characteristic flavour compared to the other Cycladic product variants. The history of louza starts many years ago, from the notorious celebration of the pig slaughters. According to tradition, every household, would slaughter a pig in autumn, which they had raised all the previous year. They would then take the tenderloin and the fillet, salt them, add summer savoury and pepper and after putting the meat in the "eyes" (pork intestines), they would salt it again and dry it in the Myconian sea breeze. In recent years the demand has grown a lot and the producers are trying frantically to meet it, while it doesn't need to be refrigerated to keep.

DELOS LEGACY

The birthplace of Apollo, the god of light and the arts, has become one of the greatest sites of worship in the ancient world. Perhaps because of its sacred status in antiquity, perhaps because of its geographical position, Delos has acquired a new age mantle, according to which it is endowed with hidden energy. Archaeologists have taken a more rational view. "In 1455 Cyriacus of Ancona, one of the fathers of archaeology, visited the ruins, where he sketched and wrote descriptions of the colossal statue of the Naxian Apollo. In the 17th century the Venetians brought back one of the ancient lions to adorn Arsenale, while other antiquities were taken to Rome and England," archaeologist P.I. Hatzidakis notes. In 1873 the French Archaeological School began digging on Delos, and from 1904 to 1914 the most important parts were excavated. Delos became a world monument and one good reason for the development of Mykonos.

MOSAIC MASTER

Born in Delos, Irene is one of the few people on the planet that can declare the uninhabited Delos as her origin. Her father was a worker for the French Archaeological School and a farmer and one of the few people who had a small house in Delos. "I've grown up in Delos and Rhenia and my influences are very clear. I worked in Delos too for ten years and I raised my daughter Georgia there. I carry its charm and magic with me always." She's of an artistic nature that doesn't fit in moulds, but reproduces in the most authentic way with mosaic tiles, representations of Delos in small art objects up to large frescoes, floors and pools that adorn villas in Mykonos and Greece, as well as all over the world, from Australia to America. "What I do is very particular, but I'm not forced into doing things that I don't like. It's heavy work, with stone and cement, but I won't change it for anything, even if I'm living in cosmopolitan Mykonos."

AMAZING VIEWS

Instagram alert! The Armenisti lighthouse built in 1891 can cast its light as far as 35 miles into the sea and is a wonderful spot to admire the view to Tinos island. Climb up to the 19-m. peak to visually appreciate its total height, which exceeds 184 m. Awarded by the International Exhibition of Paris, the Sauter Lemonier's mechanism functioned until 1983. Since then, it has been exhibited in the courtyard of the Aegean Maritime Museum in Chora. The crumbling twisted ladder of the lighthouse leads you up to its all-seeing vista from a height of 19 meters. Hardly can you elsewhere find such a panoramic snap.

Completed in the course of many different photographic sessions that were then carefully curated through a fresh artistic mindset, Mykonos Mediterranean Cycladic is an iconoclastic tribute to the untainted soul of the island of the winds. From the nonchalant bohemia to the jet set utopia that still shapes Mykonos' two opposing but totally amalgamated faces, master photographer Yiorgos Kordakis studied both as well as the world in between them with equal intrigue, searching for that perfect balance that sets the island apart since the day it was first inhabited by party-goers and wandering souls alike. Through the artistic filter of his own, personal relationship to Mykonos, both as a visitor and as a professional, this is the photographer's testament to the iconic Cycladic princess. Born in Greece, Kordakis explains his unbreakable chain with the sea and the summer: "I was born and raised in Greece, a country surrounded by the sea, the reason why my relation with water soon became a very intimate one." Therefore after the attentive exploration of every angle, light and color of its peculiar ecosystem, his affair with the island was incarnated through the sharp artistic direction of Domnika Gregoriades. The designer who gave life to the publication through an almost architectural approach, attentively designing it as a creative love letter to the living, breathing organism that is the Mykonian summer. Printed in Greece, the 220-page publication is endowed with three different covers: The yellow, purple or white fabric that embraces the hard cover becomes the frame highlighting the chosen image of each of the three. All the while, subtle engraving and distinct typography bring out the genuine feel of a place that seems to inhabit its own space in time.

A previous Kordakis project, The Global Summer, a study with Polaroid photos, attempted to compare the way people enjoy the summer in different places like the USA, Romania, Greece or India. It also pointed out that, despite their similar needs, people have strong behavioral differences that come with diverse environments and cultures. In a sense, it's a study on universal behavior and, more specifically, on how people relate to water as a natural element. The artist suggests that when people are near water – the sea, lakes, rivers and swimming pools – they are not only relaxed and amused but, wearing as little as possible, they reveal their inner nature.

WHO IS WHO

Born in Greece master photographer Yorgos Kordakis lives between New York City and Athens. He has perfected a large format Polaroid photography method with Inkjet technology and fine Art Archival Paper. Kordakis' popular Global Summer series has captured viewers across the US and Europe who are fascinated with his images of blurred people and structures creating complex abstract patterns.

Beach report

AGHIOS IOANNIS

Protected from both northerly and southerly winds, the beach is divided in two by some gentle rocks and boasts the stunning sunset featured in the 1989 film, Shirley Valentine. Among the beach's strong points are the interesting seabed towards the right, ideal for snorkelling, the very fine pebbles that are perfect for natural reflexology and for barefoot luxury lovers. For such an experience visit the redesigned Beefbar on the Coast in Mykonos and the brand-new exclusive Beach Lounge (mykonos.beefbar.com).

PARAGA

It is the first beach on the island to open and the last to close, since its favourable orientation guarantees warm days from May to October. There is easy parking at both entrances: from Aghia Anna and just before Paradise. Get ready for frenzied dancing at SantAnna (+30 6956 762847, santannamykonos.com) and the bohemian style of Scorpios as you enjoy its vibes until the night hours (scorpios-mykonos.com).

AGHIA ANNA (KALAFATIS)

Drive a bit further past Kalafatis or walk a few minutes to find the somewhat hidden little beach. With clean, emerald waters and sand that continues some distance into the sea, the beach is embraced by ancient Divounia, which act as wind breakers for its calm and velvet sandy beach. Don't miss a romantic dinner at Spilia Seaside (spiliarestaurant.gr).

AGHIOS STEFANOS

This is an ideal beach for those who wish to avoid high society, admire the magnificent views of the Small Delos islands and enjoy a magical sunset with the locals. If you feel adventurous, keep driving towards the protected Houlakia beach. Swim to the small cove behind the rocky shoreline and benefit from this idyllic location despite the strong winds.

PANORMOS

The livelier beach of Mykonos remains a quiet corner. This ex-hippie and nudist haunt is reminiscent of old Mykonos, while it has a wild beauty with its colours changing throughout the day. Don't miss the August full moon party here; an unforgettable experience.

Or the chance to spend a day at the Principote, nestled on the breath-taking beachfront (principote.com).

KORFOS

Just 2,5 km from Chora, at Korfos beach, you encounter intense winds that create the most adventurous waves, the perfect setting for kitesurfing. If you haven't done that before, try it under the guidance of the instructors of Kite Mykonos (kitemykonos.com).

PSAROU

It has been experiencing glory days since the 1980s, setting the summer's trends and defining the concept of luxury living on Mykonos. It boasts warm waters even from the early spring. The road is quite narrow with sharp turns and requires attention. You will come here to see and be-seen. If you have some time to enter the design world of Nammos Village with many famous luxury fashion brands.

HOULAKIA

A beautiful beach with golden sands and emerald waters, only 4 km north of the capital. It's a protected beach of natural beauty, divided in two parts. The left combines a small cove with a small beach. The right side is full of big, round multi-coloured pebbles. Get ready to feel a sweet seclusion and a bit of "The Blue Lagoon" feeling.

ORNOS

The island's most popular family beach attracts all types of tourists, Greek families and quite a few locals. The natural barrier created by the settlement's houses blocks the strong north wind which often pounds the island, while the south wind does not affect the sea since the bay, while large, is closed and protected. Ornos' long sandy beach has numerous restaurants and café-bars with tables all the way to the sand.

AGHIOS SOSTIS

No make-up, bars, shops, tourist enterprises or sunbeds. With wonderful deep blue water, it favours snorkelling fans. Here you will see celebrities and anonymous nudists, as well as locals. Best from May to mid-July and then in September; avoid the August meltemi winds which make conditions unwelcoming. You could go by your own vehicle or by taxi.

LIA

Lia is the last of the southern beaches that you can go by car. A small bay with deep crystal waters protected from the strong northerly winds which is ideal for snorkelling. This is the alternative preferred by celebrities who arrive by boat. Get ready for a more secluded experience, walk over the rocks to reach the neighbouring Tigani beach. But before that, have a look at Liasti beach bar (liasti.com)

KALO LIVADI

In the southern eastern part of the island you will find one of the best organized beaches with a strong cosmopolitan feel, which covers every entertainment and taste expectation. Indulge in this long, yellow sandy beach with green-blue clear waters, abundant umbrellas, sunbeds and water sports.

AGHIA ANNA (PARAGA)

Aghia Anna still maintains, to a degree, the image of a quiet, family beach, functioning as a discharging point from its two noisy neighbours. The beach faces southwest and gets the sun until late, offering the opportunity for long-term sunbathing before or after enjoying the authentic recipes of Nikolas taverna (nikolas-taverna.com).

AGRARI

On the south side of the island, Agrari introduces its charm and calmness. It has sun loungers and water sports and can also be accessed by small boats from Platis Gialos. The beach's right-hand side, by the rocks, is ideal for diving and playing games in the clear blue water. Taste local appetizers and share traditional recipes at noon at Agrari Beach Restaurant (agrari-beach.gr).

MEGALI AMMOS

Free of umbrellas and sun loungers, the beach is ideal for a quick dip for those who want to keep within a safe distance from the Chora. Accessible even on foot, the golden beach with fine sand and northerly winds is also a great place for windsurfing, and a luxurious stay with high dining. Dive in the unique pool of Bill & Co Suites

ELIA

A lot of people prefer Elia as the best beach on the island, ideal for water sports and for families. You must visit to discover it for yourself! Do not forget that it is one of the bigger sandy beaches on the island and that it preserves its bohemian feeling. It is better to visit it on days with a north wind for calm waters.

PARADISE

It is among the first of the island's hot spots to strongly support the nudist dogma. Numerous beach bars are lined on the beach, inspiring people to get up and dance. The beach is also accessible by sea on small boats (caiques) which depart from Ornos and Platis Gialos. The nights at Cavo Paradiso with a dazzling DJ programme are enjoyable. (cavoparadiso.gr).

KAPARI

A western beach that is worth visiting late in the afternoon. A ten-minute walk from Agios Ioannis and you will arrive at one of the island's last havens. Nudists and old Mykonos devotees gather here daily, while the concept of organization is completely absent. Dive into the sea from the smooth rocks at the end of the beach and seek your privacy.

FOKOS & MYRSINI

Fokos still remains an untouched treasure, as buses don't reach this beach, with shallow green water and thick sand. Picturesque and calm with the island's coldest waters, it is located right after the artificial lake of Marathi and is quite seriously affected by the north winds. Myrsini is the next beach with crystal-clear green waters. Another small, sandy gem that calms you, with its natural tranquillity and its blue horizon.

SUPER PARADISE

Super Paradise is reborn and enters a new era of partying, connecting with each other and enjoying life, charged with the special energy that this beautiful beach in Mykonos has been radiating for over fifty years. A landmark holiday destination, the new Super Paradise Beach Club is a place where guests from around the world become co-travellers in the journey of authentic, most-modern bohemian fun, partying moments, relaxation, and pampering with mouth-watering food options, sensational wines and creative cocktails. Located above the dazzling turquoise waters of the beach, Jackie O' Beach Club awaits with an explosion of the senses (jackieomykonos.com), while the new Paraj Restaurant and Beach offers an exceptional high-end experience (paraj-super-paradisemykonos.com).

KALAFATIS

This is one of the island's biggest beaches and even when crowded, it offers a sense of space which is ideal for families. Sports lovers would not change it for the world; you can try everything from jet skiing and banana boat rides, to parachuting and diving. The sand is quite pebbly, while there are many trees for natural shade. Get ready for a diving lesson by world record holder Waldemar Foit at his W-Diving school (mykonos-diving.com).

RHENIA

The best way to visit Rhenia is by boat. Hidden caves and virgin beaches await those who get there. There are four unique and isolated beaches with golden-white sand and crystal-clear waters with blue-green colour on the island: Glyfada, Stena, Lia and Ambelia. Take a small beach hopping journey to see them all.

PLATIS GIALOS

Protected from the winds and beautiful albeit packed, Platis Gialos is fairly developed. Its big plus is its sporty character and the plethora of restaurants and hotels that line the beach. Do not miss out on the opportunity to learn how to water ski on its calm waters. Test your skills with jet ski exercises in the afternoon, to avoid the very hot hours (mykonoswatersports.gr).

FTELIA

Ftelia is divided into two by a rock formation that reaches the sea. Starting from Chora, take a right turn at the crossroads to discover the ideal surfing destination and admire a performance offered by the virtuoso surfers. When it is not windy, the landscape is reminiscent of a lagoon and the beach is frequented by a number of locals and artists.

THE COASTLINE OF ATHENS IS A NO-BRAINER FOR THIS TIME OF THE YEAR. GET THE MOST OUT OF THE ATHENIAN RIVIERA WITH THESE ESSENTIAL STOPS STRETCHING FROM PIRAEUS TO THE TEMPLE OF POSEIDON IN SOUNION.

Summer in Athens has always been something of a taboo: Most people prefer to be on one of the beautiful Aegean islands, but those who eventually choose the capital never regret it. Just a few kilometres away from the historic centre and the Acropolis, Athens has an enviable coastline that is the go-to destination when the mercury hits red. Amidst the magnificent blue-water sandy or pebbled beaches, the marinas, bays and parks, lies an authentic island destination that invites you to discover it. Starting from the famous port of Piraeus, we will traverse the entire lacy coastline of the Athenian Riviera until we reach the archaeological site of Sounion, ideally at sunset.

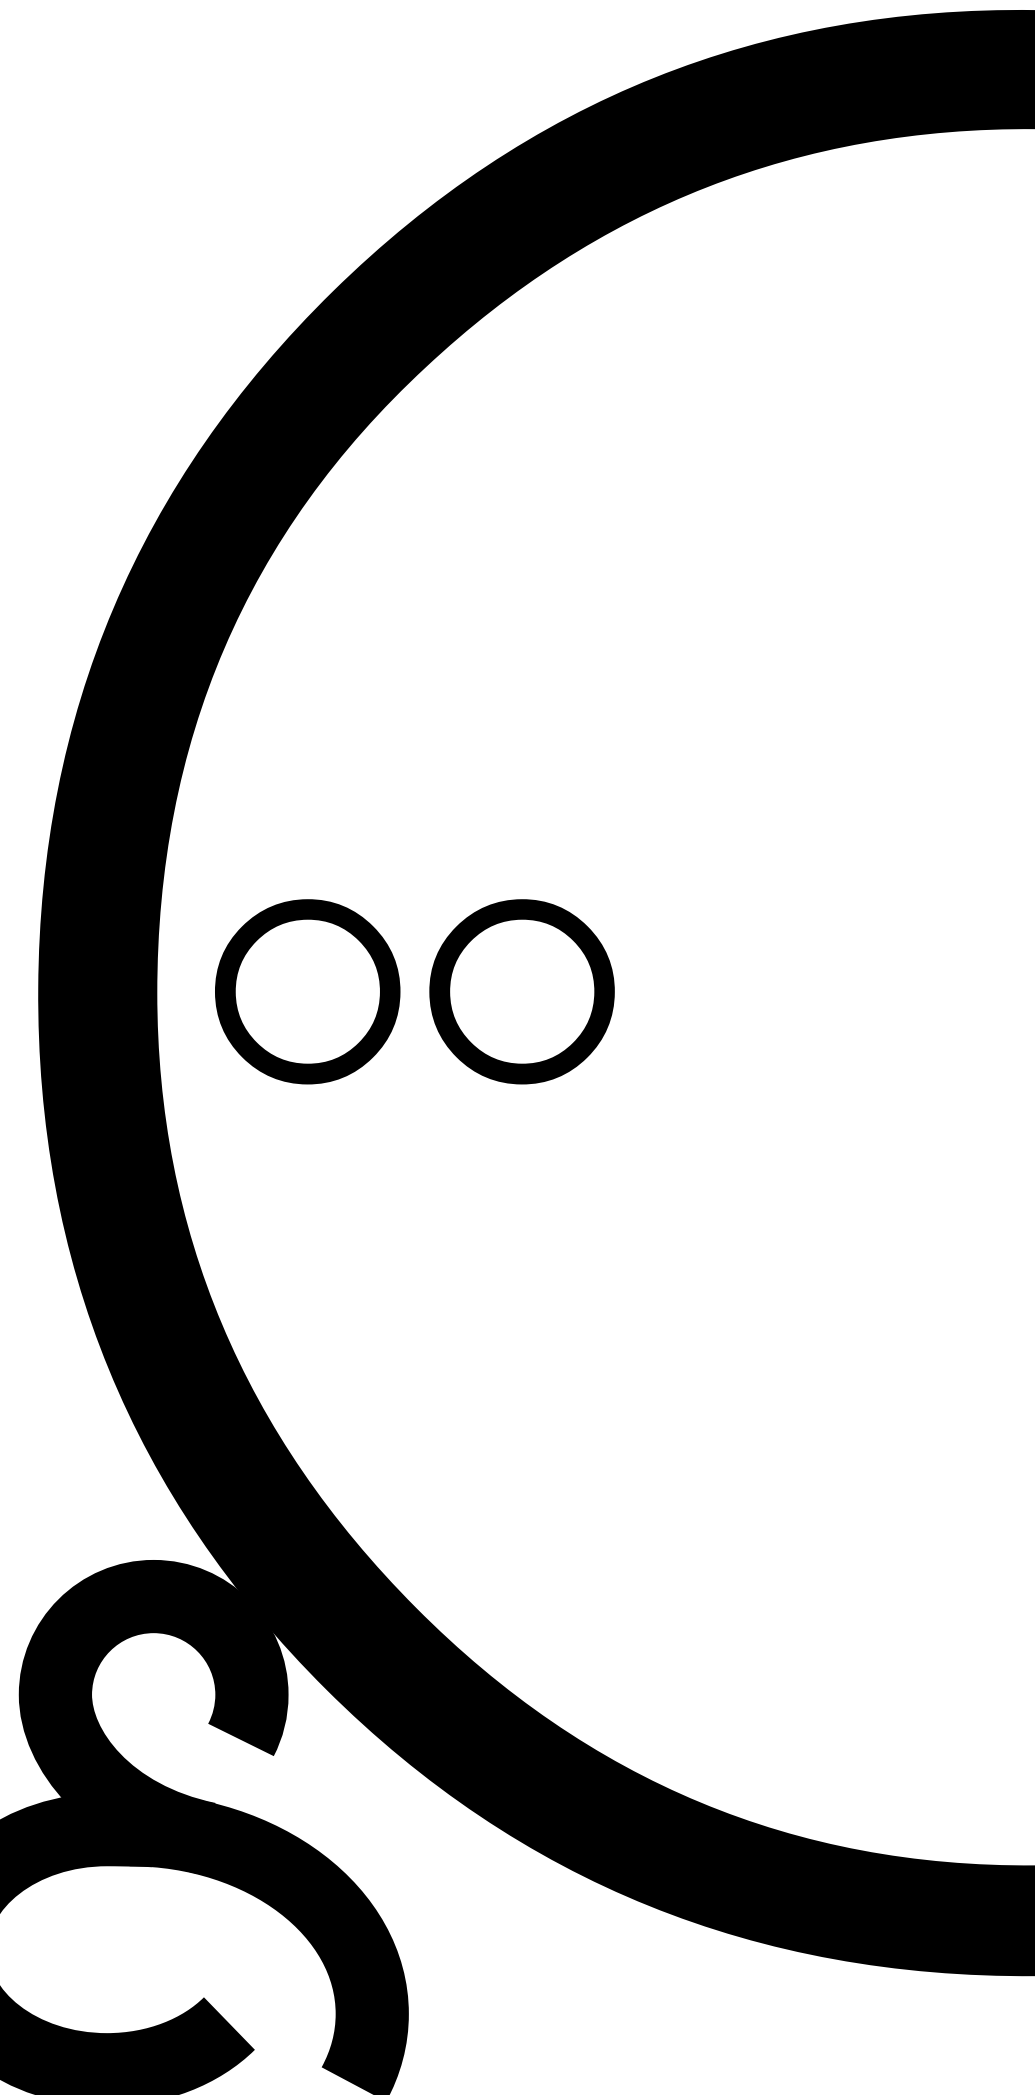

The road trip on the Riviera begins and ends with culture. The first stop is the Hellenic Maritime Museum, the largest of its kind in the country, dedicated to the rich maritime history and tradition of Greece. Admire up close ship models, ancient stone anchors, nautical instruments, paintings, photographs and sailors' uniforms arranged chronologically and thematically, covering the period from prehistoric times to the present day (hmmuseum.gr). We continue with a stroll at the Stavros Niarchos Foundation Cultural Centre Park, ideal for families, with vast expanses of greenery and child-friendly activities on the edge of the Falirikon Delta. The architectural landmark, signed by Renzo Piano, in addition to the Park, includes the National Library of Greece and the Greek National Opera. This season, don't miss a close-up look at Louise Bourgeois' imposing sculpture Maman, a giant spider that overshadows the Esplanade of the SNFCC (snfcc.org). Nearby, ideal for a refreshing coffee against the backdrop of an armada of luxury yachts, is the Flisvos Marina in Palaio Faliro (flisvosmarina.com). Regarding the beaches, the iconic Astir Beach has been a benchmark for all of Attica for over half a century. Swim in its beautiful blue waters and enjoy sunbathing, while the highlight is the breathtaking sunset (astir.gr). Of course, another must-destination for a swim is Lake Vouliagmeni, the hidden treasure of Attica's nature. In an idyllic landscape, consisting of a massive rock, brackish thermal waters, winding underwater tunnels and lush green vegetation, it's a rare geological phenomenon. The therapeutic waters are constantly renewed, both from the underground thermal springs and from the sea and promise a natural and unique thermal spa experience (limnivouliagmenis.gr). Finally, we end up at the southernmost tip of Attica, at the craggy cape of Sounion, and specifically at the temple of Poseidon, which exudes a unique aura that will take you back to the era of Ancient Greece. Recalling the respect that the ancient Athenians, especially the sailors, had for the god of the sea, the temple was probably built at the same time as the Parthenon, during the Golden Age of Pericles, by the same architect who built the Thiseion in the Ancient Agora of Athens. He decorated the Temple with sculptures of Parian marble depicting the feats of Theseus and battles with Centaurs and Giants. In addition to the long history and energy of the place, the moment of sunset, with the sun's rays illuminating the Temple, is magical.
