The Mediterranean country is the unofficial patent owner of the private plunge pool – and these are some of the best hotels with private pools in Greece for easy-access temperature-regulating this summer.

The forecast in Greece tops 40 degrees in high summer, so a sea breeze and poolside proximity are a must – and at these hotels you can book a suite with its own swimming pool - how's that for a luxury holiday?

Whether you've set your sights on checking into one of the best hotels in Mykonos or a romantic break at the best hotels in Santorini, our pick of Greek hotels where you can enjoy a dip in your own pool is a must-browse right now.

Bill & Coo Coast Suites, Mykonos

The communal pool at sister property Bill & Coo Suites and Lounge, one of the original sought-after stays in Mykonos, may be doing its best to compete (it has LED lights, for a start), but it doesn't stand a chance in the face of the rooms at Bill & Coo Coast Suites that have their own plunge pool with a day-bed helpfully suspended above it.

This 15-suite hotel is also where you'll find the island's Beefbar outpost on its private beach, which can be accessed directly from the rooms – it's the perfect spot for midday ceviche and shade.
